It Was A Very Good Year For . . .

. . . WHS

Yes, it was a very good year. A year full of days to be remembered and days to be forgotten. Each moment, filled or wasted, was ours to live.

Experiences ended almost before they began.

Spirit peaked with winning athletic teams; classes explored Shakespeare and Watergate; Queens were crowned; clubs promoted civic betterment; failure notices were sent, honor rolls were cited.

We can now reminisce those days . . .

A Year For . . .

. . . PEOPLE

As Wauconda's enrollment leveled at 1,100 and overcrowded classrooms became a reality, administrators, faculty and staff saw the need for focusing on the individual.

Curriculums were designed to give every student an opportunity to follow his own educational direction at his own speed.

The myth of the happy, carefree student disappeared as concern replaced apathy in search of self-discovery.

We're Proud of our BULLDOGS

A Year For . . .

. . . SPIRIT

A year for the underdog, it was great to be in Bulldog country in '75.

Spirit rose to an all-time high as the gridmen claimed their first conference championship and participated in the state playoffs.

For the first time, girls were eligible to compete in varsity activities.

Through it all, four cheerleading squads and an enthusiastic student body were there for support.

A Year For . . .

. . . DECISIONS

A time of tremendous motion, sometimes directions were not clear and decisions had to be made.
New ideas pointed the way as students selected their own courses in the Phase Elective program.
Teachers, aware that the world just wasn't the same, utilized new teaching techniques.
Patrons of the district, sensitive to the needs of quality education, passed a $1.9 million referendum.

This Was . . .

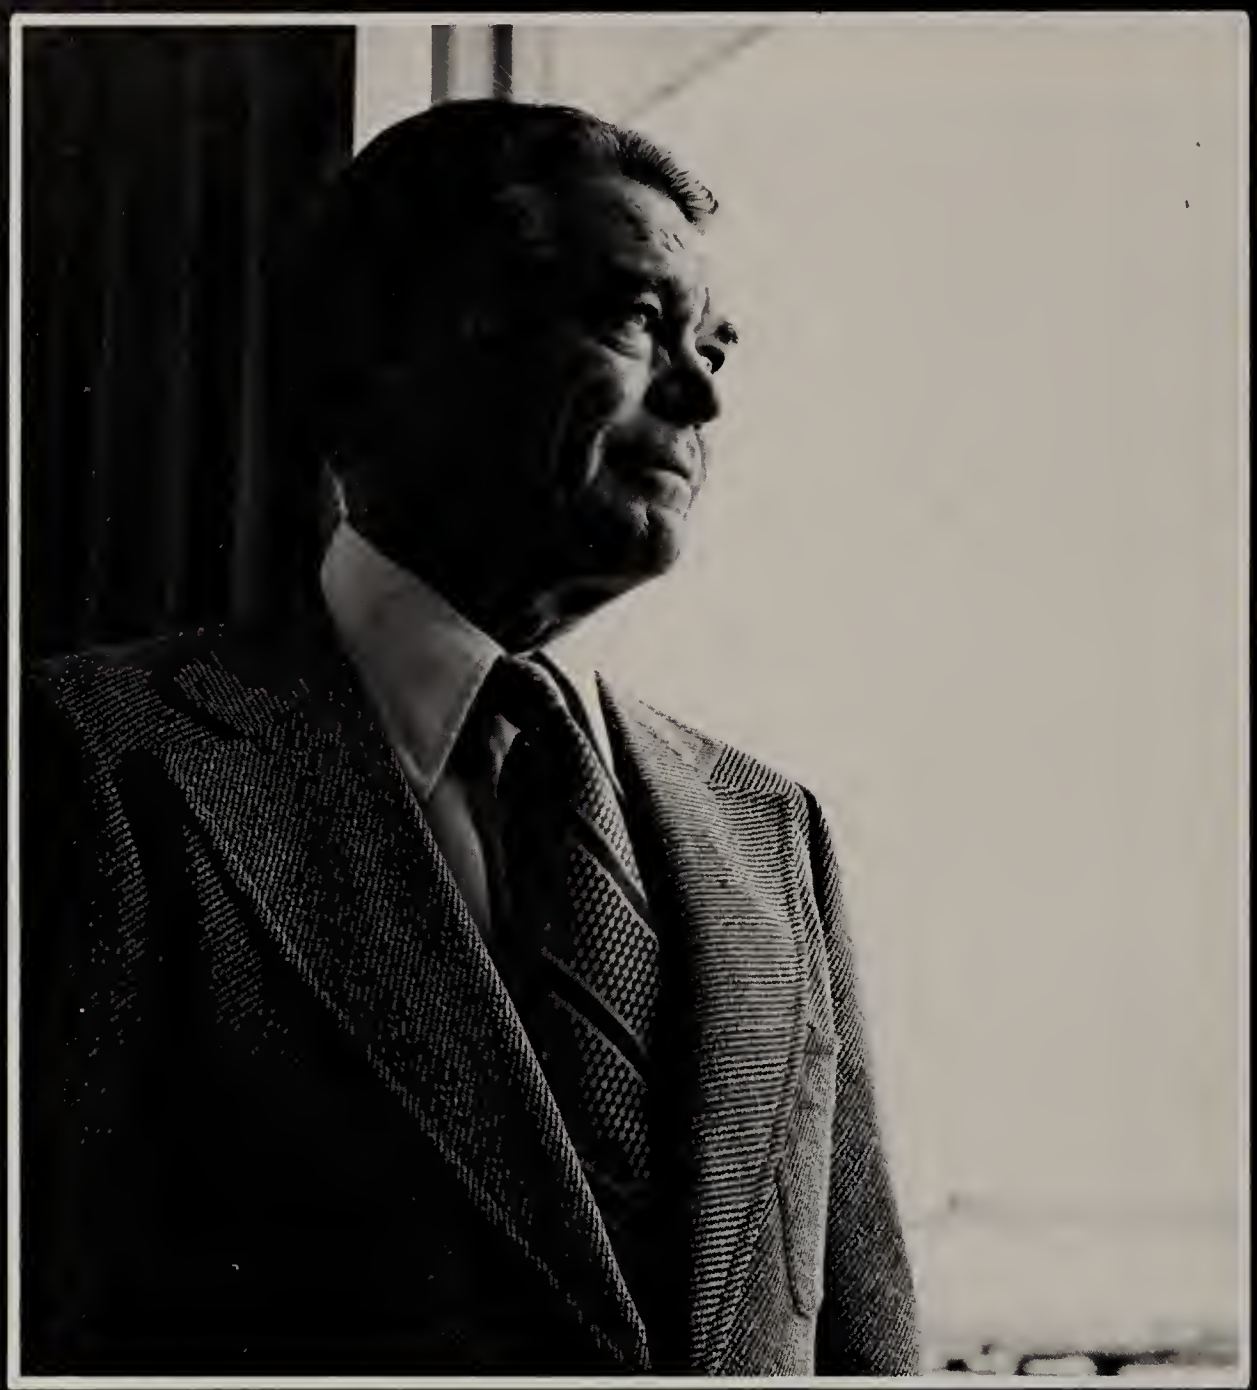
. . . THE YEAR '75

And so it was, Waucon-da's 1974-75 term. Students milling through long corridors, crowding into classrooms, cheering at football games, applauding theatrical produc-tions and banging lockers between classes.

No great heights, no alarming depths, no spelled out protests, no disruption of the routine. School doors opening, school doors clos-ing, on the bus, off the bus, lessons learned, lessons forgotten, dates made, dates broken.

And so it was.

Superintendent Retires After 29-Year Service



Since Mr. C. Richard Warfield arrived at Wauconda in 1946, he has served as principal of the high school, superintendent of the elementary and high school districts, and superintendent of the unit district.

A recognized administrative leader in Lake County and other suburban areas, his aim was to improve the quality of education. In pursuing this goal, Mr. Warfield developed an integrated school program from kindergarten-high school that call for the reorganization of the Wauconda High School, Wauconda Grade School, Island Lake and Volo districts. As a result, Unit School District 118 was formed.

Mr. Warfield attended Blackburn College and graduated from the University of Illinois. He also holds graduate degrees from the University of Illinois and Northwestern University. He served as President of Northwest Conference of Schools, Chairman of Lake County Superintendents, and is a member of the Board of Directors for the Area Vocational Center and College of Lake County.

Mr. Warfield and his wife Gladys, who teaches at Wauconda Grade School, have two children. Marjorie is married and is currently residing in Atlanta, Ga. James is a counselor at Lake Forest High School.

With his decision to retire and because of his dedication to this community and its schools, this issue of the Bulldog and all which follow will serve as a reminder of, and as a tribute to Mr. C. Richard Warfield.

'Wild, Wild West' Homecoming

The Wauconda Bulldogs showed how the West was really won as they kicked off the '74 Homecoming festivities.

Highlighting the "Wild, Wild West" week-end was the naming of Janice Faurie as queen and the 48-6 football victory over Antioch.

In class competition, the juniors rated supremacy as they won first place in link competition, second in window painting, and third in float decoration.

At the stunt show, GAA took first place while the freshman float was named best in the parade.

Other traditional events included the bonfire, parade, and the whitewashing of Main Street.

Climaxing the activities, a dance was held in the school cafeteria with "Proud Flesh" providing music.

Monkey House' Displays Contemporary Ideas

In a March production, the Drama Club presented a sort of theatrical excitement that came from the display of original ideas in Kurt Vonnegut, Jr.'s, "Welcome to the Monkey House."

"Monkey" begins with a moving episode in which a young man searches for companionship and identity through participation in amateur theatricals.

Then an edged satire of the future concludes the first act.

The final scene, entirely realistic and modern, gets to the heart of what really concerns young people today as a high school music teacher fights to salvage a rebellious young man, explaining to him how one might bring beauty into the world.

"Love yourself," the teacher tells him," and make your instrument sing about it." Vonnegut cares about young people, and as a critic suggested, "He makes his literary instrument sing about it." --as did the WHS production.

Involvement Is Key Word For Council

Involvement was the key word among Student Council members this year. Supervised by Mr. Terry Stevig and Mr. Michael Elwart, teacher advisors, the Student Council sponsored the annual Homecoming activities in which $700 was raised towards purchasing a new video television. The Council also sponsored a Turnabout Dance, and made plans for bringing a foreign exchange student to WHS in the fall of '75. The Council supported the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation by collecting $240 during a "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" drive.

NHS Taps 62 Students For Membership

This year the Wauconda High School faculty chose 62 students on the basis of character, service, leadership, and scholarship for the NHS.

In an initiation ceremony, April 6, students received awards from Mrs. Ruth Crooks, NHS sponsor.

Speakers at the ceremony were Mr. Richard Warfield, Dr. Martin Zuckerman, and Mr. Norman West.

Bulldog Bugle Staff Reporters Get The News

Nineteen Bulldog Bugle reporters spent most of the year finding that who, what, when, where, why and how of Wauconda's happenings. The result of their effort was a monthly publication which was sold for ten cents to the student body. With a primary goal of obtaining sound scholastic journalism, staff members concentrated on the mechanics of writing straight news, editorials, feature and sports stories.

After students reported for each page, they worked on the section of their choice for the remainder of the year.

Annual Points In Direction Of Total Coverage

Arrows pointed the way for the Bulldog staff members as the newly formed yearbook class headed in one direction: year-round coverage.

Publishing Wauconda's first summer delivery book, the staff, headed by co-editors Dean Ogren and Cindy Russell, focused their attention on improved coverage and design to present the year 1974-75.

Fund raisers for the book included a bake sale, a popcorn sale and WHS' first Buzz Book.

FTA Takes A Behind-The-Desk Look At Education

The Future Teachers of America is a school sponsored group of WHS students who are planning on pursuing a teaching career.

Twice a week the members go to assist Mrs. Aimers of the junior high sixth grade class in a special reading course.

Some of their activities include having a panel discussion about financial papers and college entrance requirements for sophomores, juniors, seniors, and their parents.

Another activity they participate in is going to universities and looking at educational programs.

FHA Activities Stress Outside Involvement

In '75, WHS Future Homemakers of America grew not only in membership but also in activities.

Not just concerned with domestic training, the club sold Homecoming mums, saw several area plays, visited metropolitan centers and worked extensively with the state organization.

Dating Game Turnsabout At Annual Dance

There are some who have mixed emotions about the women's liberation movement, but it was truly turnabout is fair play at the annual Turnabout Dance held in early March.

WHS girls found out what it was like on the other side of the dating game fence. They not only asked their favorite guy to the dance, but also picked up the restaurant tab afterwards.

A semi-formal affair sponsored by Student Council, the dance was attended by over 175 students. They danced to the music provided by "Right Off the Road" and enjoyed a variety of refreshments.

Foreign Language Club turned over a new leaf for '75, and, by intiating monthly activities, became the largest club at WHS.

Bands Take A Concert Tour; Participate In Area Contests

The Wauconda High School bands had a full schedule in '74-'75.

At the beginning of the school year, the marching band performed four half time shows at home football games and marched in the Homecoming Parade. The marching bands also went to the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater to march at its homecoming.

During basketball season, home crowds were entertained by the Pep Band. The Music Department's Winter Concert included the Concert, Cadet, and Stage Bands.

Forty band students competed in the Illinois High School Association's Solo and Ensemble Contest.

The Stage Band, consisting of 35 band members, performed at the Mundelien Jazz Festival.

A spring show featured bands and choruses from grades 6-12.

The bands presented their Spring Concert, and they also played at Graduation.

The Concert and Stage Bands toured central Illinois and gave two concerts. Other field trips included a Concert Band trip to see the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the Pep Band's trip to 'THE MAGIC MAN'.

Harmonize For School And Community Activities

Harmonizing on a new note this year, choral activities really got into the swing of things under the direction of Miss Priscilla Mace.

With a wide range of material-- from contemporary with the Swing Choir to classical with the Ensembles-- WHS songsters presented audience pleasing programs throughout the year.

Entertaining activities included the annual Christmas Concert and performances at Lakehurst Shopping Center during the holiday season.

A Stroll Down Memory Lane For Prom Guests

Juniors Terri Lochen and Kevin Kendall reigned at "We May Never Pass This Way Again," the Junior-Senior Prom, held at the Arlington Park Towers in late May.

Members of the royal court included Bonnie Kruckenberg, Gretchen Lincoln, Karen Nape, Julie Stanger, Ed Dagdick, Scott Dowell, Mike Gallivan, and Butch Melton.

Over two hundred-fifty students and alumni dined at the hotel and were entertained by the sounds of "Jotto", a Highland Park band.

Bulldog Gridders Claim First Conference Title

For the first time in 25 years, Wauconda's varsity football squad earned a share of the Suburban Northwest crown.

Advancing to the state class 3A playoffs, the Bulldogs were defeated in the first round by powerhouse West Chicago, 20-14.

Posting an 8-1 league record, highlights of the season included the last minute 14-6 win over Grant and Ted Siwy's 76-yard run that capped a 20-16 victory over Lake Zurich.

Frosh, Soph Squads Post Losing Seasons

Taking the good with the bad, the sophomore and freshman squads eyed the future and concentrated on development.

The sophomore gridders compiled a 3-5-1 season record under Coaches Tom Gallivan, George Haley, and Ken Nelson. Although the team claimed victory against Stevenson, Grant and Round Lake, their most impressive game resulted in a 12-0 defeat by Warren.

Recording a 3-6 mark, the freshman team ended the season on a positive note with a 35-12 win over Round Lake. Coached by Rick Kannenberg and Steve Freund, the squad also beat Lake Zurich and Grayslake.

Cross Country Sports New Look En Route To 4-5 Season Record

Cross Country had a new look this year, GIRLS! For the first time girls were able to compete in conference competition.

The varsity and sophomore squads sported twin 4-5 records this season, and the Varsity took seventh place in the NWS conference.

Highlights included the freshmen team's first place in the Mundelein Invitational. The same group also took third in the County Meet and third in the Twenty Team Invitational.

Cagers Net Eighth In League With 8-17 Season

It took the strong Northwest Suburban Conference to push the Bulldogs from the spotlight.

Despite an 8-17 season and an eighth place league finish, Wauconda's cagers played heads up ball, and hopes for a title dimmed as they lost eight games by only five points.

The team was led by most valuable player and captain Tony Gallivan at the guard position.

Brian Sarff compiled 231 rebounds, and best freethrow shooter Dave Hedgepath, hit 76 per cent from the line in season play.

ABOVE . . . Bulldog forward Ed Dagdick, eyes the basket and prepares to shoot, as two Buffalo Grove cagers make an effort to stop him.

LEFT . . . Center Brian Sarff uses his height and sky hook to an advantage against Buffalo Grove. His 14 points, however, were not quite enough as the Bulldogs lost 54-47.

Junior Cagers Bounce To 7-15 And 10-12

Underclass basketball ended on a not so happy note as the freshman and sophomore squads bounced to a 7-15 and a 10-12 season, respectively. The freshman team captain was Dave Jensen. Brad Anthony and Mike Schwarz were named most valuable players. The team received a consolation trophy in the Harvard tournament.

Co-captained by Bill Curl and Dean Anderson, the sophomore highlights, which ended as heartbreakers, included a 39-38 loss to Stevenson and a 63-62 overtime defeat to Lake Zurich.

Girls Sports Program Focuses On Teamwork

Early morning practices, after school games, body filled locker rooms, and plain hard work was a familiar routine for all the females participating in sports this year. GAA members not only performed a winning skit at Homecoming, but also went skiing in Colorado during spring vacation. With the promise of a new gym and larger locker room area next year, 1974-75 also became a very good year for girls sports.

Varsity Matmen Wrestle Way To 6-11 Dual Season

Despite a 6-11 dual season record and a ninth place finish in the Northwest Suburban Conference, Wauconda's varsity matmen sent three grapplers to the District meet and one to the state-qualifying Sectional tournament.

Bob Conley, wrestling at heavyweight, won second in District and third in the Sectional competition while his brother Steve (155) took first in Conference and second in District. Junior Dave Sprik (185) also won second place honors on the District level.

Pacing the '75 squad, senior Bob Conley was named Most Valuable Player and had the most takedowns.

The sophomore team secured a second place conference standing with a 10-6-1 mark and the freshman squad broke even with a 9-9-1 record.

Tracksters Run To 5-5 In Record-breaking Year

The Bulldog cindermen ran their way to a 5-5 league mark and a third place finish in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Paced by high hurdler George Wasilas, who was the first Bulldog in six years to qualify for state, highlights of the tracksters' season included the record-breaking 9:58.5 two-mile run by Ray Lanners.

During the conference meet, the 440-relay team composed of Cliff Hoerer, Tony Gallivan, Bill Havemeyer and Wasilas set a new league record with a 45.2 performance.

Bulldogs' Fighting Nine Bag Conference Title

The varsity baseball squad clinched the Northwest Suburban Conference championship with a 12-6 record.

In the last contest of the season, the Bulldogs claimed the title by trouncing Cary Grove Trojan 7-6 and 4-1 in a doubleheader.

Senior Tom Harris won the batting crown with a .392 average, while Mike Moulchin hit .377. Dave Hedgepath kept the bullpen alive by hurling an 8-2 log.

Led by Most Valuable Player Bob Geist, the sophomores posted a 5-19 over-all record.

School Administrators Keep Their Eye On Tomorrow Today

With an eye for tomorrow today, Wauconda saw many changes during the year.

As the doors opened in September, 59 teachers, a new principal, Mr. Norman E. West, and 1,043 secondary students pursued a program of educational excellence.

Mr. West, formerly principal at Fenton High School in suburban Bensenville, focused on increased course selection and relevance without losing sight of the need for student identity.

Looking to the future, the Unit School District 118 Board of Education presented a $2.9 million referendum to the public in December.

The proposal, which was voted down by a narrow margin, was revised, and in March a $1.9 million bond issue was approved by patrons of the district.

Mr. Richard C. Warfield, superintendent of the Wauconda school system for 29 years, announced his retirement effective July 31, and Dr. Martin Zuckerman, assistant superintendent, was named his successor.

Mr. Norman E. West, Principal

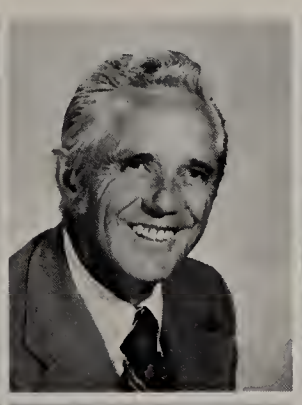
MISS LANA HENK-B.S.; Typing I, Typing II, Office Practice, Data Processing; Sophomore Class Sponsor.
MR. CHARLES O'CONNELL-B.A.; General Business, Business Law, Business Management; Freshman Basketball Coach.
MRS. BARBARA PASLEY-B.S.; Typing I, Recordkeeping, Retailing, Consumer Problems.

History Tells It Like It Is And Way It Was

In covering today's ever-changing societies, students in the eight history courses are exposed to different nationalities, government, customs, and religions.

Field trips to Field Museum, Chinatown and the like, enabled classes to take a closer look at what the textbooks presented.



MRS. REBECCA FINCH-B.A.; Freshman Social Studies, United States History; Freshman Class Sponsor, Pom Pon Girls Sponsor.
MR. ELMER ICENOGLE-B.A., M.S.; World History, World Affairs, Social Studies.
MRS. MAUREEN NELSON-B.A.; Freshman Social Studies, World History.

TOP . . . In one of Mr. Stevig's Freshman Civics Classes, he is eagerly bringing across his view on the process of the evolutionary man.

MR. LEN SIATTA-B.A.; American History, Psychology; Social Studies Department Chairman; Football, Wrestling Coach.
MR. TERRY STEVIG-B.A.; Sociology, Freshman Social Studies; Peer Council, Student Council Sponsor.

TOP RIGHT . . . During a discussion, Mr. Icenogle tends to find out that his chair is quite relaxing in his morning World Affairs Class.

Individualization, Challenges Sum Up Mathematics Program

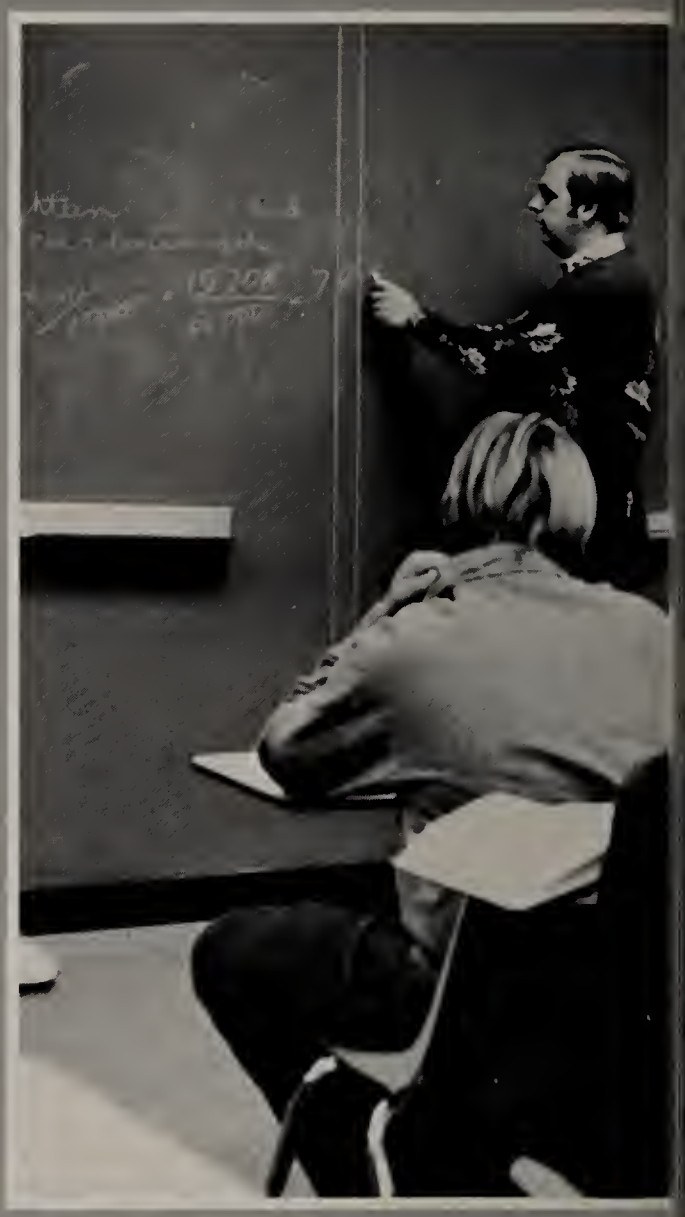
With the advent of miniaturization, instant math has become a reality, and math curriculum has changed from learning basics to putting the basics to work in algebra and geometry.

Whether the WHS student is going to college or into business, the math department offers courses for him. The department curriculum consists of 12 courses including two four-year programs: the '50' level is the college prepartory four-year program while the '30' level provides a broad mathematics background for business. All math classes are designed with the individual in mind.

No new courses were offered this term, but next year a semester course will be offered for seniors and a year course will be available for juniors who need their math credit.

MR. LEE HAMPEL-B.S.; Basic Math, Algebra I, Probability and Trigonometry; Freshman Class Sponsor, Peer Counseling Advisor.

MR. ROY A. SARFF-B.S., M.A.; Math Dept. Chmn.; Analytic Geometry Algebra & Trigonometry, Algebra II.



MR. DeWAYNE REED-B.S.; Basic Math, Algebra I, Plane and Solid Geometry.

MR. DANIEL G. THORNTON-B.S.; Algebra I, Algebra II, Basic Math, Geometry; Drama Club Sponsor, Tennis Coach.

UPPER RIGHT . . . Mr. DeWayne Reed teaches his class of freshman the fine art of working with fractions in the Basic Math course.

RIGHT . . . John Kosmach tediously writes a two-column deductive proof about congruent triangles in his Plane and Solid Geometry class.

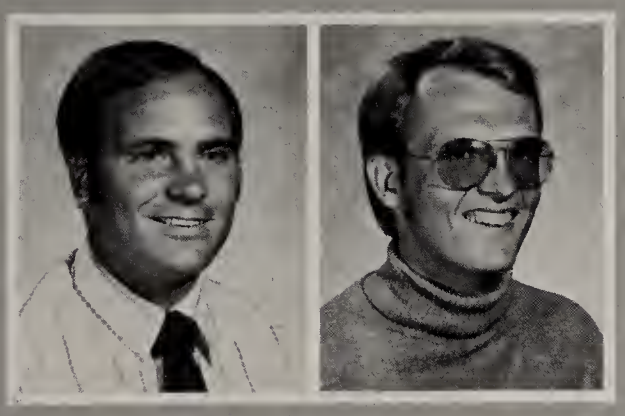
Learning By Doing Atmosphere Emphasized In Science Studies

With a learning by doing attitude, the Science Department operated under a program of behavioral objectives.

Emphasis was on individualized instruction while students explored everything from muscular systems to rocks and minerals.

In-class work included a program presented by the Wauconda Fire Department to the Advanced Biology classes on artificial resuscitation procedures.

Freshman astronomists visited a planetarium to view first hand the galaxies of the universe.

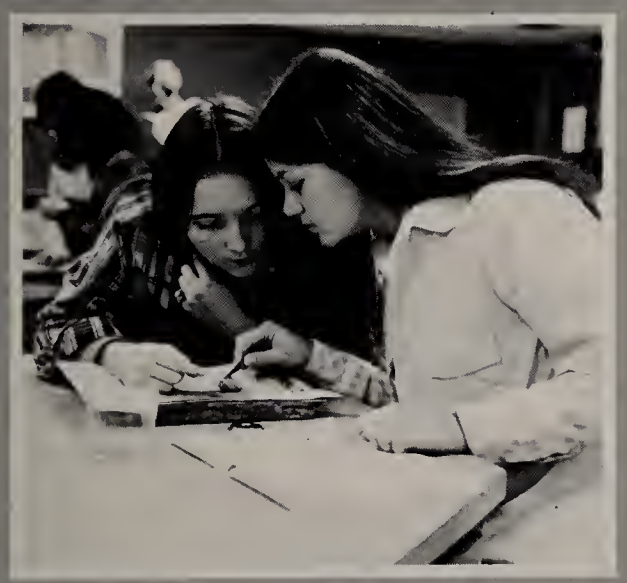


MR. STEPHEN FREUND- B.S.; Introduction to Biology, Human Physiology; Freshman football coach, assistant track coach.

MR. RICK KANNENBERG- B.S. Engineering; Earth Science; Freshman football coach, assistant Varsity baseball coach.

MR. LEONARD A. KOCINSKI- B.A. MATS; Biology, Advanced Biology.

MR. KARL JAY PRICE- B.S. Education; Plane and Solid Geometry, Basic Geology, Planet Earth, Intro to Biology, Human Physiology, Basic Math; Junior Class Sponsor.



UPPER LEFT . . . Su Mionski performs open heart surgery on a fetal pig's heart in Mr. Len Kocinski's Advanced Biology class.

CENTER . . . Silvana de Lorenzo and Colleen Smith explore the various parts of a fetal pig's heart.

Practical Arts Students Forsake Traditional Roles

As the liberation movement made headlines nationally, Wauconda's practical arts curriculum began taking on a new identity, too.

Forsaking the traditional role concept, girls of the Home Management classes found themselves jacking up cars and changing flat tires, while the boys learned how to cook, wash dishes and iron.

According to the department heads, girls enrolled in previously all-male drafting classes, while cooking classes were popular with boys--probably because they thought there was more eating involved than cooking.

ABOVE . . . It isn't the fourth of July, but rather Tim McGill welding cautiously on his first semester class project in the Industrial Arts Metals.

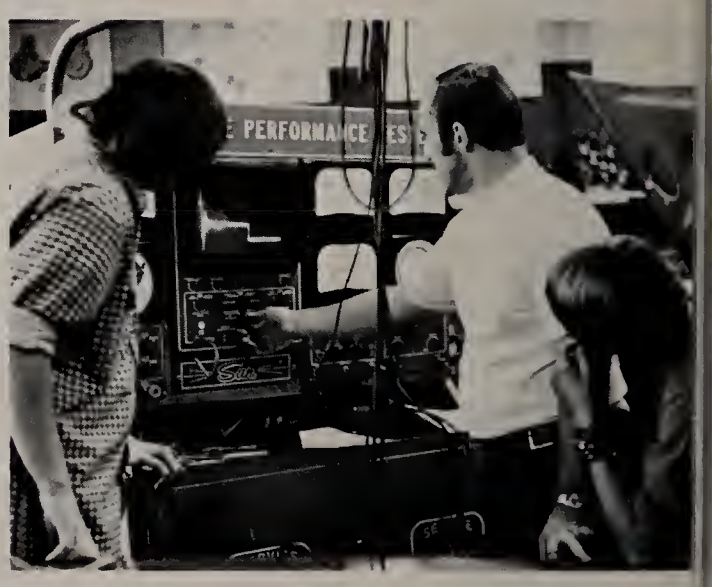
MISS GAIL EGGERT-B.S.; Home Economics I, Beginning Foods, Family Life, Housing.
MRS. MARGARET FOSSE-B.S.; Home Economics, Advanced Foods, Home Management, Personal Clothing, Beginning Foods; FHA Advisor.

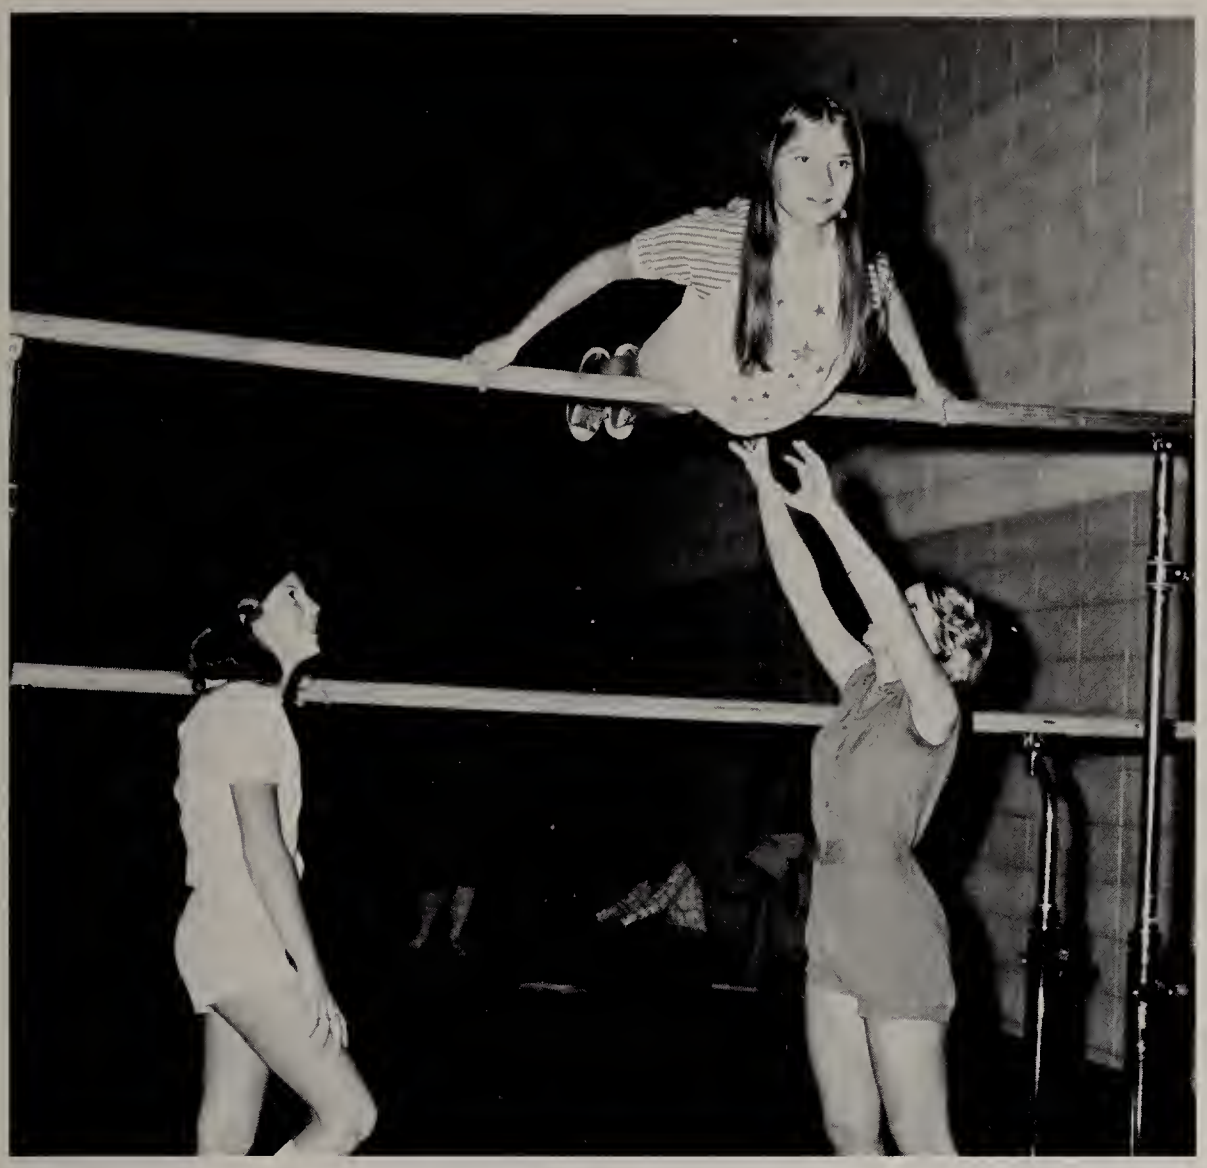
FAR RIGHT . . . Smiling and anxious, Eileen Hough works diligently to finish her first project for the Home Economics Clothing and Textiles class.

MR. TOM NANCE-B.S. in Education; Drafting; Golf Coach.
MR. GREG PASLEY-B.S. in Industrial Arts; Metals, Drafting.

BOTTOM RIGHT . . . In Auto Shop class, Mr. David Falk shows Marv Lilla and Richard Alderfer exactly how to operate various pieces of equipment.

MRS. MURIEL RIEDESEL-B.S. in Education, Department Chairman; Sewing, Child Development, Family Life.
MR. GARY A. SIMON-B.S.; Woodworking Technology; Head Baseball Coach, Assistant Varsity Football Coach, Freshman Wrestling Coach.



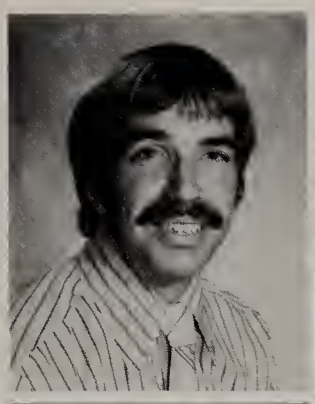


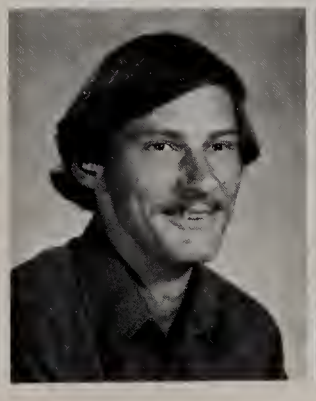
P. E. Program Emphasizes Good Health

WHS' physical education curriculum stresses the importance of developing skills that a student can use all his life to keep himself vigorous and strong.

The program includes team and individual sports that emphasize health, excercise and recreation.

Wauconda continues to offer Driver Education to any student who does not already have a driver's license and who is 15 years old.





MR. MICHAEL ELWART-B.S., M.A.; Health Science; Student Council, Jr. High Basketball, Varsity Track Coach.
MR. GEORGE HALEY-B.S., M.A.; Driver's Education; Sophomore Football Coach.

TOP . . . In deep concentration, Bev Zemrus attempts a swan pose on the uneven parallel bars.

MRS. JACQUELINE JABCON-B.S.; Girls Physical Education; G.A.A. Basketball and Softball Coach.
MR. THOMAS LEWIS-Boy's Physical Education; Varsity Basketball Coach, Lettermen, P.E. Department Chairman.

MR. LEE OLER-B.S.; Boy's Physical Education; Freshman Baseball, Sophomore Basketball Coach.
MRS. MARGEE PIEPER-B.A.; Girl's Physical Education; Volleyball and Track and Field Coach.

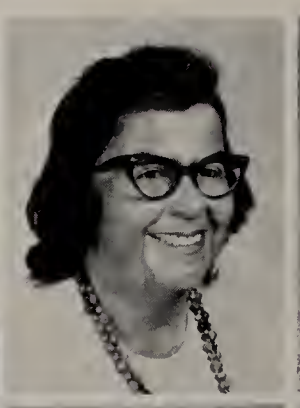
All In A Day— Assistance By Special Service

Although the student spends six hours a day in his classes, his smoothrunning routine would be chaotic if it were not for those who concern themselves primarily with his health, well-being, and direction.
The Cooperative Work Program assists students in job placement, and special services are offered by the librarians, nurse, and Special Education District of Lake County.

TOP LEFT . . . When there are books to be checked out, a student can always count on Mrs. Gwen Carey, librarian, being there.

TOP RIGHT . . . Mrs. Sharon Bockstahler, points out employment possibilities listed in the newspaper to Mary Green during a Career Education class.

RIGHT . . . Mr. Tony Rake, librarian, assists Mrs. Thayae Weber in locating information to be used by the sophomore English classes.



MRS. SHARON BOCKSTAHLER-B.A.; Special Education District of Lake County.
MRS. MARTY CAMPBELL-B.S.; Special Education District of Lake County.
MRS. GWEN CAREY-Assistant Librarian.
MRS. RUTH CROOKS-B.E.; Cooperative Work Program Co-ordinator; NHS Advisor.

MRS. JODY O'CONNELL-B.S., M.S.; Special Education District of Lake County.
MRS. LAVERNE POTTER-R.N.; School Nurse.
MR. TONY RAKE-B.S., M.S.; Librarian.

ROBIN MURRAY

"Now if I press this button here the steam will come out, right?" Dave Herrick probably had plenty of questions for Debbie Hoffman on the proper procedure for pressing a shirt during an exchange between the Home Ec and Auto classes.

"The food is fit for a zoo! (Ken Kannenberg)...The thing I like most about WHS is the theatre department. (Floyd Hedgepath)...Being a senior means you're leaving soon so you tend to learn more about what you want to do. (Mike Moulchin)...I think WHS is decent, very decent -- but I can't wait to get out. (Ray Porten)...I'm very proud of the football team. (Corliss Eckmann)...Being a senior is kind of frustrating because of all the decisions you have to make. (Sue Jones)...I think WHS is a very neighborly school. (Randy Reith)."

"I think Mr. West is really going to do alot for this school. Maybe he will last more than one year. What this school really needs is a principal with good attendance. (Sheri Kirchner)...I like being a senior, you have the feeling of rank and accomplishment. (Laura DeBruyne)... Being a senior is no different from my previous years. (Ellen Elkins)

"Being a senior is testing your leadership. It is a time when students change their attitudes and find new and different friends and enemies. One tries hardest to accomplish those things one missed in high school and the teens. A senior discovers a loneliness he never before knew, an indecisive time. Seniors also ignore some truths because they hurt. (Bill Eagan)...I think this years' football team is fabulous and it's done much for school spirit and morale -- only wish that the enthusiasm for the football season could last the whole year. Graduation Finishes A Life's Chapter

A very good year was completed as 204 Seniors took that long walk to pick up their diplomas. Four years of work represented by a piece of paper and a congratulatory hand shake.

The graduates filed in, Mr. Warfield gave his last message to the graduates and the diplomas were presented.

Both happy and sad were the emotions expressed. Happy for the accomplishment they made but sad because they now realized that all would be going their own separate ways.

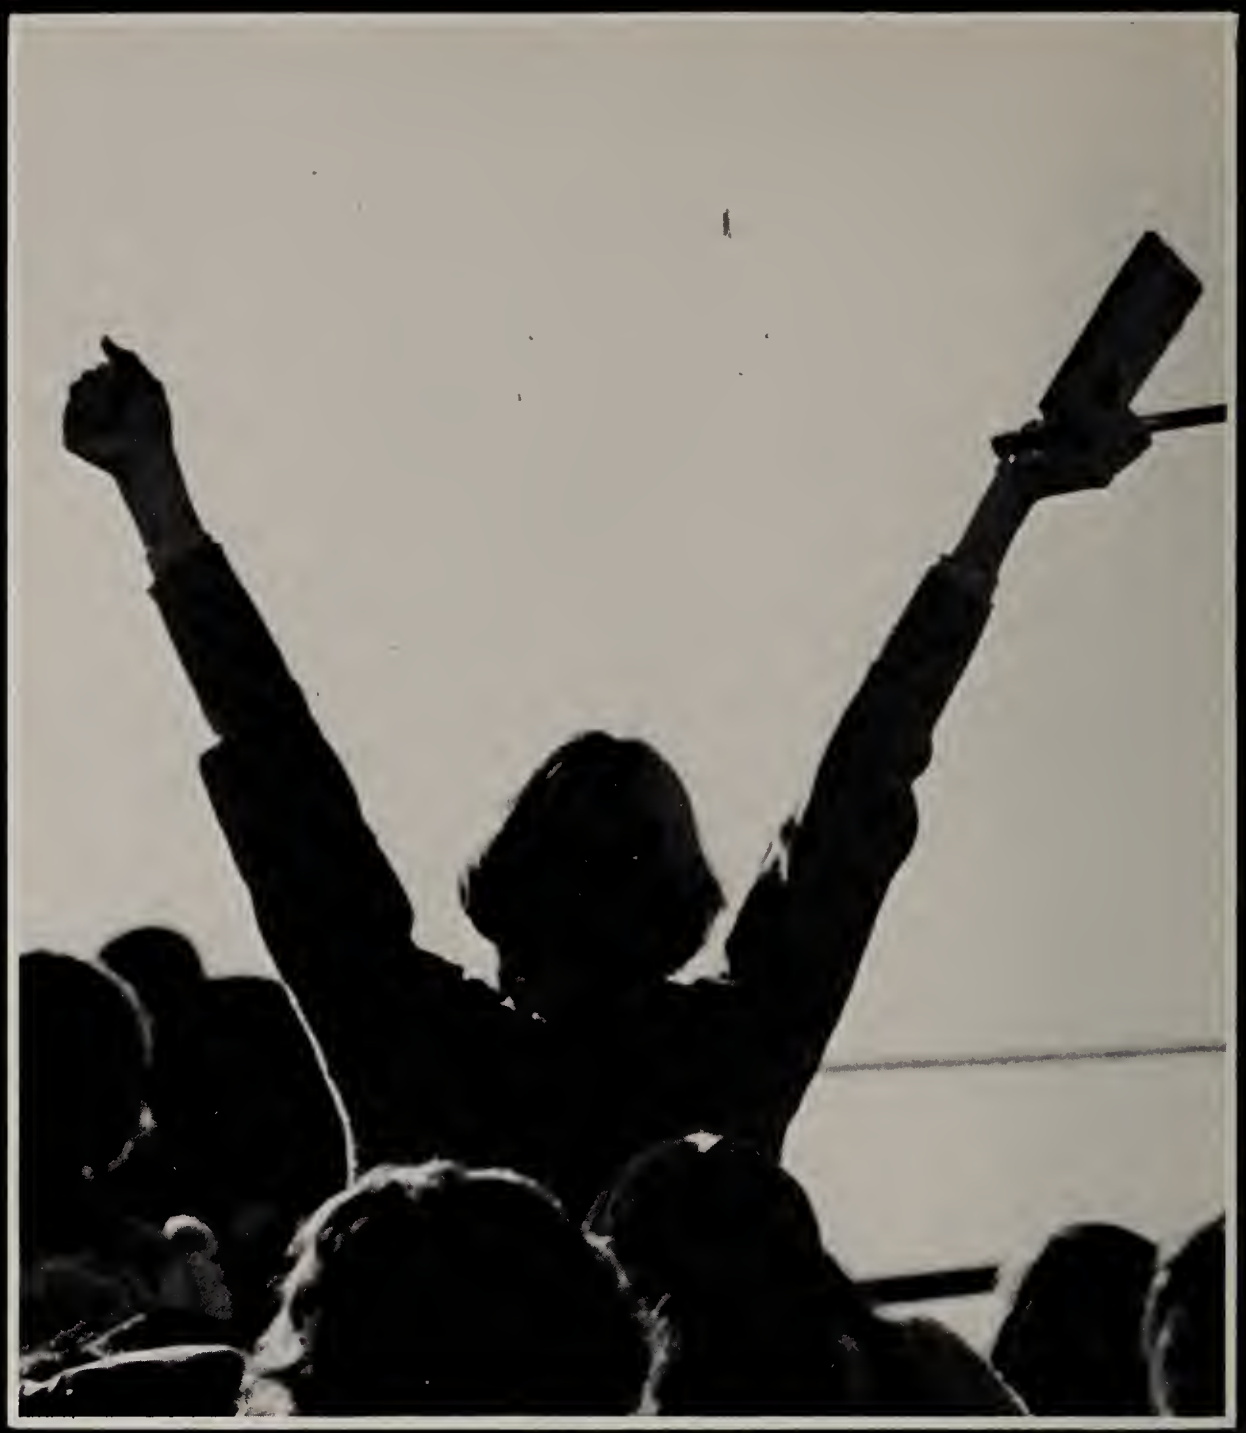
Thanks is such a small word to use to tell someone how much you appreciate all they have done for you.

This past year Mrs. Cheryl Stoller rushed both newspaper and yearbook through a crash course on journalism in order to put out better publications. It worked and both newspaper and yearbook improved.

For her long and seemingly endless task to put out better publications, the staff would like to extend their sincere gratitude for her extra help in making this a very good year.



Acknowledgments

Mrs. Cheryl Stoller, Advisor . . . Dean Ogren and Cindy Russell, co-editors . . . Cindi Franciso, Terry Drizis, Editorial Board . . . Curt Loomis and Peter Clark, Student Photographers . . . Root Photography Studio . . . American Yearbook Company, Mr. Dennis Eder . . .

Twenty-seven students walked into classroom B-2, met a new advisor, and together they produced a yearbook.

Eighteen staff members saw through the aggrevation, frustration, and final success of this book.

Under the direction and advice of Mrs. Cheryl Stoller, and the devotion of the staff members, 1974/75 did turn out to be a VERY good year.
